BULL FIGHTERS AND DANCERS IN JUSTICE POLLARD'S COURT.

Judge Has Interpreter Inform Senora Carmen Moreno That Before She Takes the Stand Again She Must Attire Herself in More Modest Apparel-Trunks Attached by Attorney Wheless to Recover Money A dvanced for Hotel Bills. -

Witnesses in the suit of Attorney Joseph Wheless against Mexican bullfighters and Spanish dancers, for money advanced to pay hotel bill. Case was tried yesterday before Justice Pollard, who reserved his decision Mexican bull fighters and Spanish dencers held the boards in Justice Pollard's ourt yesterday. The Justice and the bull fighters got along all right, but the Justice's idea of propriety was deeply shocked by the costume of one of the dancers.

Senor Carmen Moseno, witness for her husband, Senor Carles Moseno, who was defendant in a suit, appeared in a handsome gown, with a lace guimpe of very low cut. She is a woman of dark Spanish type. Justice Pollard did not notice the make of aer gown until she had taken the witness chair, immediately to the right

The Mexicans stopped at the Planters Hotel until a bill of more than $100 was run up. They claimed they were not liable for the bill. It should have been settied, they claimed, by the man who was to have given the fight.

The hotel people, however, held the Mexleas responsible, and rinsed, it is stated, to give up their strunks. About the same time Senor Moreno's wife arrived in St. Louis with a band of dancing girls. By a mistake, it is stated, their trunks were sent to the Planters.

The built lighters and dancers had made arrangements with Abert Bare, to give exhibitions at a summer garden. They could not, however, get their costumes, which were in their trunks. They were referred to Attorney Joseph Wheleas because he speaks Spanish. Mr. Wheless brought suit in Justice Spaulding's court for the trunks, but the Constable was unable to find them. Mr. Wheless then advanced the money to pay

HITCH IN THE DEAL FOR CATLIN TRACT

as a Means of Avoiding Congestion of Traffic and Unmanageable Crowds.

As suggested in The Republic of yesterday, the proposition presented by President Ramsay of the Wabash to the World's Fair Company was an offer by the Park View Realty Company to lease the Catlin tract for exposition purposes at a rental of $206-000, the price which President Francis said their pockets for a trip to St. Paul, where ten days ago the Exposition was willing to

When negotiations were broken off at that time the price demanded by the Park View Realty Company was $70,000 for 140 acres. Coupled with the offer of yesterday were other conditions, which has caused temporarily, at least, another deadlock, the Executive Committee laying the matter over for further consideration.

These conditions relate to the improvement of the River des Peres in its course across the Catlin tract to its jeinture with the channelway on the Exposition site; the improvement of Lindeli boulevard by w d ening and grading that thoroughfare from Union boulevard to Skinker road, and an agreement on the part of the Exposition Company to turn over to the realty com-pany all amusements not granted conces-sions on the Fair's "Skinker Road."

Main Entrance Plan Dropped. The three Directors of Divisions attended the committee meeting yesterday, and were asked questions pertinent to the theory that the Exposition might get along without the Catlin tract. Out of the discussion grew the determination to abolish the idea of a main entrance. In support of this decis on were offered the arguments of the traffic managers of steam and street railways converging at the site.

converging at the site. It was concluded that a main entrance would have the effect of congesting traffic at one point. Visitors are prose to take the lines to the "main entrance." A "main entrance" would be likely to divert traffic from lines not terminating at such an entrance. Better facilities for distributing the crowds, without inconvenience or danger, were found in the scheme for a scries of entrances at various points on the Exposition limits. These suggestions settled the fate of the "main entrance." "main entrance." Transit Company has announced to

It was stated after the executive meeting that an entrance would be established at Lindell and De Baitviere, in the event of the acquirement of the Catlin tract, but in no sense would it be a "main chirance" as originally planned. The intention of the architects is to close that end of the Grand Curt with some massive construction, probably a building when will conceal the beauties of the Caurt until the visitor has passed through this structure.

Director of Works again told the committee that he had planned to a meete the Exposition layout without the addition of the Catlin tract, which was not needed

Director of Concessions tirege was inter-rogated as to the relative value of the Calin tract and of the site chosen for the "Skinker Road" in the Forest Park section of the rite, for annosement purposes.
